

What a Week! January 24, 2025 Jungle Animals and the letter R

This week was COLD but it didn't keep our special guest Gigi from coming! A grandparent of former preschoolers who are now in elementary school, she visits a few times each year to share her love of singing with guitar or violin.

Rachel Doyle (Diarmuid's mom) came to share a special snack time too.

If you haven't yet shared a talent or been a guest reader, it's not too late! Talent share is 10:15 - 11:15 and guest reading can happen in that window as well or at 12:15. Email jkanatas@rpcpreschool.com to get on the schedule!

Next week's theme is under the sea!!

THANK YOU for answering the questions about your thoughts about and potential interest in summer programs. We'll have a plan together and share it by February 1!

Valentines Day!

There are 28 students. If you'd like, please bring 28 valentines with no "TO" but yes "FROM (your child)".

Registration is now open for current families! We will roll over deposits for families returning or with a new student. The only deposits needed are for anyone adding a second child to the preschool. Tuition rates and programs are the same for 2025-26. The registration form is at www.rpcpreschool.com or we're happy to hand one to you! Enrollment for new families opens February 7. Please share the info with people you know. Word of mouth is the number one way we fill our spaces each year. Thank you!
